

YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED IN A LONDON TRAIN

POLICE OFFICERS PUZZLED

Body May Have Been Thrown From a Compartment.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Merstham Tunnel of the London and Southeastern Railway, where the brutal murder of Frederick I. Gold by Percy Lefroy, alias Mapleton, occurred June 27, 1881, again has been the scene of a mysterious tragedy, the details of which so far as ascertained are markedly similar to that of a quarter of a century ago.

WOMAN IS VICTIM.

In the present case the victim is a young woman, Mary Money, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that the woman was murdered in the compartment of a train on which she was traveling and that her body was thrown from the car.

WAS NOT SUICIDE.

The fact none of the doors of the car on its arrival at Red Hill was open is considered to prove conclusively that it was not a case of suicide.

Miss Money left her home on Sunday evening, saying she would not be gone long.

NO TICKET FOUND.

The affair thereafter is a complete mystery.

No ticket was found on the body and no one has been able to explain under what circumstances the young woman entered the train or where she was going.

If she was murdered, as is supposed to be the case, the murderer disappeared without leaving any trace.

The cars furnish no clew to the crime, which could have occurred nowhere but in a railroad car divided into separate compartments such as is used on the British railways.

SOLDIERS ARE SENT TO BAKU

BAKU, Caucasia, Sept. 26.—Reinforcements totaling 11,000, with three batteries of artillery have reached this city.

The Governor had issued an order forbidding the troops under any circumstances to fire on houses occupied by foreign consuls.

Should, however, shots be fired from these buildings at the troops, the landlords will be heavily fined.

The proprietors of the naphtha wells and refineries have been ordered, under threat of arrest, to pay off the arrears of wages due to their employees.

DUCHESS UNDER KNIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Dr. B. H. Curtis, who yesterday performed an operation on the Duchess of Marlborough (formerly Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt) said today that the operation was not for throat trouble, as reported, but for a nasal difficulty. It was performed to remove a slight deafness that resulted from a fall received by the Duchess in her youth. Dr. Curtis said that his patient probably would be able to leave the hospital Thursday.

HOW LAWRENCE CUT HIS WIFE.

MRS. LAURA L. LAWRENCE
Physician Tells How He Just Missed Murdering the Woman.

Lawrence said to me: "I cut my wife tonight and I do not know whether I killed her or not, and I wish you would find out for me," was the startling testimony given by Fred Sprinkle this morning, a witness against Lawrence in the case now on trial before Judge Melvin and a jury.

FRIEND TELLS STORY.
Sprinkle is an expressman in the employ of the Merchants' Express and a friend of Lawrence's and had kept his mouth closed tightly upon anything he knew of the affair; but in his effort to find out for Lawrence how badly injured his wife was on the night of February 14 last he let the remark drop to Mrs. Lawrence and this morning at ten minutes of ten o'clock he was served with a subpoena and a short while later had told what he had carefully guarded for months.

HE MET LAWRENCE.

Sprinkle said that he met Lawrence in front of the Sunset Grocery on Broadway between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets shortly after he had cut his wife and he came up to him and told him what is stated in the opening paragraph.

WENT TO SALOONS.

They went to several saloons together and tried to telephone to the house but were unable to get an answer and finally Sprinkle went out and had a personal interview with Mrs. Lawrence in which he told her as an excuse for coming to her that Lawrence had told him that he had cut his wife and he wanted to find out how badly she was hurt.

CALLED SUDDENLY.

Sprinkle, under cross-examination, stated that he had told no one else and had never mentioned it to any one since he made the remark to Mrs. Lawrence.

"When were you subpoenaed in this case?" asked Attorney Peter Crosby.

"At ten minutes of ten o'clock this morning," said Sprinkle.

MERCHANTS FAVOR HOME TELEPHONE. FINAL REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

Councilmen Call on Business Men and Are Told of the Home Service.

BY CLARENCE E. WILSON.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 25.—During the last twenty-four hours the representatives of the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Home Telephone Company have vied with each other in entertaining the majority of Oakland's City Council, which is visiting this city. Sunday was a day of pleasure and but little time was devoted to the telephone question. The beauties of Los Angeles were viewed from automobiles during the day and the magnificent spectacular effects of Venice were viewed by night. The Council also made a trip to Catalina Islands, where the panorama on the bottom of the vast deep was viewed from the glass bottomed boats.

In the several trips made by the party of Councilmen, the representatives of the Sunset Company and the Home Company were successively the hosts.

AT COUNCIL MEETING.

On Monday morning the entire Council accepted the invitation of Mayor McAleer and the Los Angeles City Council to attend a meeting of that body in the city hall. The Oakland City Fathers watched with interest the proceedings of the local legislative body.

After the official visit to the Mayor of Los Angeles and his Council, the Oaklanders again resumed their inspection of the two telephone systems. Twelve interviews made by the Councilmen in various parts of the city, resulted as follows:

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY.

H. W. Rapier, 2320 Vermont street, said to the inquisitors that the introduction of the Home Telephone in Los Angeles had resulted in better service, and that without competition Los Angeles could not have hoped for good service.

A. E. Soffel, druggist, corner of Twenty-fourth and Vermont avenue, stated to the Councilmen that the Home Telephone was superior in every way to the Sunset, giving better service in the least time. Mr. Soffel stated that he used three telephones, two in his store and one in his residence, all Home telephones.

Frank T. Wilson, proprietor of the Traction Market on the corner of Twenty-fourth and Vermont avenue, in response to questions put by the visiting Councilmen, stated that he preferred the Home telephone, as the automatic system was quicker and more satisfactory. He stated that in his opinion two telephones were better than one, as more subscribers could be reached and kept the service at the highest efficiency.

CENTRALS OBLIVIATED.

Bryant Sarles, a merchant at 2311 Vermont avenue, stated that the automatic telephone worked well, and that the difficulties generally encountered with "Centrals" was obviated to a large extent by the Home Company. He was of the opinion that the Home Company gave the best service, but thought that two telephones were best, inasmuch as the competition always brought good service.

Henry J. Moore, a merchant at 1580 Twenty-fourth street, stated it as his opinion that the Home Company was responsible for the present good service that Los Angeles enjoys. He stated that he had no special preference in the matter of telephones, but thought that the Home service was slightly superior.

BROUGHT GOOD SERVICE.

M. Horne, druggist, 2314 Union street, stated to the Councilmen that the Home Company had brought good service and that the automatic telephone service was much quicker than the manual system. Mr. Horne stated, that before the advent of the Home Telephone Company that he was compelled to wait three weeks for the repair of his telephone, but that since the coming of competition that all repair work was expeditiously done.

H. J. Connors, a merchant at 2313 Union street, informed the Councilmen that the Home telephone was the best when in order, and that the Home Company usually kept repair work up very well. He was of the opinion, however, that the Sunset possibly gave as good service as the Home, in view of the fact that it claimed more subscribers.

COMPETITION GOOD.

Gus Reynolds, a hardware merchant at 2403 Union street, stated that competition had resulted in good service from both phones and that at the present time he had no choice. He stated, however, that he would not return willingly to the old monopolistic conditions.

J. Campfield, a merchant at 2417 Union street, said that the automatic telephone was a success; the introduction of the Home telephone, he said, had immeasurably improved the service, so that one could get good service out of both telephones.

POPULARITY OF HOME.

The popularity of the Home telephone is attested to by the fact that the Van Nuys Broadway Hotel, where the Councilmen are staying, is equipped in every room with the telephone, which the Councilmen used extensively in testing the working of the Home line. The Angelus Hotel, for the accommodation of guests, is equipped in every room with the Home telephone.

Not only did the Councilmen take a great deal of interest in the double telephone system, but they investigated other portions of Los Angeles with the view of incorporating the ideas thus obtained in ordinances for the improvement of Oakland. The Councilmen learned much which will be of use to them, and if the present feeling entertained by the majority of the Councilmen visiting here is preserved after reaching their home town, it is probable that very extensive improvements will be initiated.

COUNTY CENSORS TELL OF WORK ACCOMPLISHED AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Grand Jury, after a busy session extending from December 14, 1904, up to the present time, filed its report with Judge Melvin, sitting in the Criminal Department, this morning, and was discharged with the thanks of the Court for the diligence with which the body had prosecuted its work.

It was shortly after the noon hour when word was sent to Judge Melvin from the Grand Jury rooms that it had finished work covering a period of nine months.

Word was immediately sent back that the Court was ready to receive the report and the Grand Jurors filed in and Foreman Herman Gard presented the document to Clerk McNulty and it was ordered filed. Judge Melvin then took occasion to thank the members for their work and ordered the jury discharged.

THE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, Department 5.

The present Grand Jury impaneled by the Hon. S. P. Hall, Judge of Department 5, on the 14th day of December, 1904, having carried out the offices and duties assigned to it and having taken cognizance of such matters as considered essential for the public good to have its attention, begs leave herewith to submit this final report:

In making this report this Grand Jury desires to state by way of preface that it did not feel it incumbent upon itself to follow the limited and narrow lines seemingly laid down for its action, but has taken the broader point:

Mr. R. C. Craft was appointed expert of this Grand Jury to examine the accounts of the county officers and his report is annexed and made a part hereof.

Mr. H. B. Belden was elected Secretary.

This Grand Jury has held 27 meetings.

GATEMAN IS KILLED AT CLINTON STATION

William Kendall is Run Down by Southern Pacific Local Train.

IN FRONT OF TRAIN.

A fatal accident occurred at an early hour this morning on the tracks of the Southern Pacific between Clinton and East Oakland station on the Seventh street local line, when William Kendall, a railway gateman in the employ of the company, stepped from behind one train and was struck by another going in the opposite direction. He was sixty-five years of age and was on his way to work this morning when the train crashed into him that cost him his life.

LIVED WITH MOTHER.

Kendall lived with his mother, who is nearly eighty-five years of age, at 417 East Fourteenth street. A year ago yesterday she lost her other son and is now deeply affected over the loss of her two boys. It was Kendall's habit to walk down from his home to the tracks and then along them to East Oakland station, where he would board the train upon which he worked. He had done this for many years, but the recent change in the time table of the company brought the passing of the trains on the piece of track between his home and the station and resulted in his death.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 26.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw will leave the Cabinet February 1, 1906. He makes the definite announcement today in a letter to the President of the County Republicans Club.

In his letter, answering a request for a date for an address, Secretary Shaw stated that he would be busy preparing for the coming session of Congress and would be unable to return to Iowa until February 1, upon which date he expected to retire from the Cabinet. Shaw will then, it is said, begin his Presidential campaign among his Iowa friends.

DEUTCHER KLUB DEDICATES ITS NEW HOME

Where German Hospitality Will be Dispensed Amid Modern and Luxurious Surroundings.

Last night the annual election of officers of the Deutscher Klub took place in the "Klub's" new and palatial rooms, in the Williams building, on the north side of Thirteenth street, between Broadway and Franklin streets.

Many of the officers of the last term were re-elected by way of recognition of the fact that they had been earnest and hard-working during the past year, and that success had crowned their efforts in the matter of providing new and modern quarters for the organization.

FINE NEW HOME.

This is a feature which, it may be said, the "Klub" has never enjoyed to the extent of its desires or resources. It is now, however, costly located and the surroundings and accommodations are rich, elegant, tasteful and complete. Heretofore, there has been either a bareness and frigidity in the walls or a cramped condition in the area, and members have always been at a loss to know which they suffered from the more.

DANCING IN SIGHT.

A German club without a hall in which the pleasures of the waltz could not be indulged in is an anomaly, and yet that has been the status of the Deutscher Klub for the past eight or nine years.

Now, however, there are warmly decorated walls, tinted ceilings, with carpet floors studded with tables for social games, rooms for billiards and refreshment, cozy nooks and angles in which members may read or converse, and all these are set off by furnishings, every feature of which appears to have been specially designed for the place in which it does its allotted duty.

In addition to these there is, adjoining, a spacious room in which the "Klub" will hold its formal and informal hops. This is a feature for which the lady

MOTHER ACCUSES HER BOY

SCHOONER IN GREAT DANGER

Ashore and in Danger of Being Beaten to Pieces.

Urged on by Father, He Beat Her, She Declares.

Alleging that her 12-year-old son urged by his father, had kicked and beaten her, Mrs. Mary Slocoovich, of 106½ Kirkland street, applied to Prosecuting Attorney Leach today for a warrant for the arrest of her offspring.

According to Mrs. Slocoovich, her son Peter, is unmanageable, and her husband had prompted the youth to mistreat her. Last night, she says, Peter disobeyed her, and when she corrected him, he struck her, and when she struck him, he struck her down and kicking her as she lay on the door.

Prosecuting Attorney Leach did not issue a complaint, but will interview the boy before taking any action against him.

GREAT BRITAIN HOLDS KEY.

CAN PREVENT PASSAGE OF NAVAL FORCES WITHIN CHINA SEA.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Admiral Fournier, in an interview published today, says the British naval station at Singapore gives a strategic base sufficient to absolutely prevent the passage of naval forces within the China Sea and is capable of suppressing commercial communication between China and Europe. Thus Singapore becomes Great Britain's key to the door of the China Sea.

MRS. VICTOR METCALF HAS GONE EAST

Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf, accompanied by her two sons, Victor and Howard, left on the overnight today for the East. Victor goes to Indianapolis to resume his studies at college there while Mrs. Metcalf and Howard will spend the winter in Washington with Secretary Metcalf.

PAUL J. SCHAEFER HAS RETURNED

Paul J. Schaefer, assistant postmaster, has returned from a very enjoyable vacation. He has been greatly refreshed by his outing and has resumed his duties at the post office.

LONDON HONORS ARMY LEADER

GENERAL BOOTH OF SALVATIONISTS GIVEN FREEDOM OF CITY.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The corporation of the city of London at a meeting today unanimously resolved to confer the freedom of the city on General Booth of the Salvation Army in "recognition of his great work for the moral and social elevation of the people."

This is regarded as an unique recognition by the city, which is accustomed to bestow the freedom only on members of the royal families, military and naval heroes or statesmen of marked prominence.

BRICK BANK FOR CENTERVILLE.

NEW CONCERN ALREADY HAS DEPOSITS AMOUNTING TO OVER $50,000.

Senator J. G. Mattos, president of the Bank of Centerville, came to this city today and reported that the management of the bank is now receiving bids for the erection of the new brick home of the institution, which is soon to be erected. The structure will be erected on a level spot and will be adjacent to the enterprise of the people in that section. Senator Mattos says that, although the bank has been in existence for only two months, it has now deposits amounting to $50,000 to credit of residents in that neighborhood.

ROUGH-HOUSE IS CREATED

SOCIALISTIC-DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION AGAINST PREMIER.

VIENNA, Sept. 26.—When the lower house reassembled today the opening moments were marked by a tumultuous Socialistic-Democratic demonstration against the premier, Baron Gautsch von Frankenthal who has incurred the wrath of the Social Democrats by his attitude on the question of electoral reform; he advised the Emperor to refuse to consent to the introduction of universal suffrage in Hungary.

The uproar lasted for some time, shouts of "Withdraw" and "Resign" being heard above the general din.

"CRANBERRY KING" HAS PASSED AWAY

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 26.—Captain Martin L. Haines, who was known as "The Cranberry King" of New Jersey, died late last night at his home in Vincenttown. He was a member of the bar and a Civil War veteran.

ORDER OF BAY CITIES WATER CO STOCKHOLDERS TO BE SUED

ACTION TO BE BROUGHT BY RECEIVER OF BANK IN KANSAS.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 26.—Receiver J. T. Bradley of the defunct First National Bank of this city will bring suit against seven of the stockholders who have failed to pay up the assessment levied against them several weeks ago. Mr. Bradley stated today that out of the $300,000 that should have been paid in, only $27,000 had been collected.

Mr. Bradley refused to state how many stockholders would be included, but that the suits would be on the court docket within a fortnight.

WOMAN OBJECTS TO SIGN

TORE DOWN DIPHTHERIA PLACARD, IT IS ALLEGED.

Mrs. Duncan Roudette, a comely colored woman who lives at 803½ Fernita street, was in the Police Court this morning on a charge of having torn from her house a placard placed there by the Board of Health. She pleaded not guilty and the case was set for October 1.

It is alleged that Mrs. Roudette's husband was ill with diphtheria and when that fact was reported by Dr. Klemhart the health authorities barricaded the premises. In the meantime the husband, though not yet recovered, went back to his work as a Pullman porter and Mrs. Roudette, it is alleged, tore down the placard. The woman denies that she destroyed the sign or that there was any illness in her house.

WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—A moderate business has been done in the wool market with territory grades as the center of activity. Dealers have no difficulty in making sales. The wools from Montana have felt the demand to such an extent that supplies are extremely small. Fleeces are still in a very strong position.

THE BELL THEATER.

Large audiences were attracted to the Bell Theater yesterday to witness the marvelous feats of the trained leopards and jaguars of Senor Arnoldo whom there is no greater master of wild animals on the stage today. Arnoldo shows his beasts in various poses, and among the fierce animals without fear or danger. On Thursday evening at the second performance Arnoldo will feed the animals in their den and at his command they will cease to eat until the word is given to proceed. This has never been attempted before on the vaudeville stage and will demonstrate the perfect control of Arnoldo over his pets.

James M. Hawley won for himself the applause of the audiences from the first word spoken. He is a dialect artist of exceptional gait and intonations of Melville, the Rolling Mill Man, Guy Williams and like well-known artists is true to the least gesture.

MISSING HEAD IS WANTED

DISCUS POLITICS IN COURT

Questions by Attorney Chapman and Answers by Robert Graham.

Police Search For It to End Mystery Surrounding Murder.

Politics cropped out in the trial of the Bump case this morning during the cross-examination by Attorney M C Chapman of Robert Graham, notary public, who witnessed a power of attorney made by Nelson Bump on September 11, 1903.

It came out in this examination that Graham was a brother-in-law of Attorney George W. Reed, who is engaged in the opposite side of the case from Chapman, that Graham had seen Bump vote at the election held in 1902, as he was an election officer.

In their efforts to accomplish this result they arranged today that a corps of divers should visit Winthrop Harbor to search underneath the water for missing head and limbs of the woman victim of the tragedy.

Graham testified on direct examination that he had been impressed with Nelson's spryness.

On cross-examination Attorney Chapman said, "You don't know, Mr. Graham, whether Bump voted at all do you?"

"O, yes I do, I saw the ballot go in," responded the witness.

"Well, how did he vote?" asked Chapman.

"I guess he voted all right," said Graham with a wink.

"Well, now as a matter of fact, you don't know whether Bump committed the folly of voting for Pardoe or not, do you?"

"A. Well, I did not see the ballot, if that is what you mean."

Q. And you don't know whether he voted or not do you? He may have gone into the booth and gazed at the ballot with bulging eyes and folded it up and come out again without making a mark on it, couldn't he?"

A. "Yes, he might have."

You see, Mr. Graham, I do not want to take advantage of you because you are a Republican," said Mr. Chapman.

"But a Pardoe one," chipped in Attorney R. H. Countryman.

"Well, I doubt that," said Chapman. "He was not my friend at that time," said Graham.

I saw Graham thrown out of a Pardoe convention and while he may have forgiven him I never will," said Chapman.

Shortly afterward Graham was excused and the humdrum of the trial was again resumed.

Graham was a neighbor of the Bump's living next door to them at 918 Chester street and he said that Mrs. Bump had come to his place and told his wife to have him come to her house and take an acknowledgement of a power of attorney.

satisfaction by hitting the woman.

LIBRARY BOOKS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Oakland September 22, 1905

To the Principals of the Oakland School Department. Arrangements have been made with the Public Library where books will be delivered to all the schools once each school month.

Books will be delivered to all the schools on the first Monday of the month. Teachers will make out the school report on the last Thursday of the school month. This report must be made out by mail or messenger if the teacher desires the librarian to select the books. However, if she wishes to select them herself she must hand select in person not later than Saturday.

The collector must not be delayed in collecting the books if he is to do the work in one day. Books must be delivered on the first Monday of the month. Delivery of books will be on Monday, October 8. Respectfully,

J. W. MCCLYMONDS
Superintendent.

HERE ARE LATEST CHOLERA BULLETINS

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (5:31 p.m.)—The official bulletin to-day announced that no new cases of cholera or deaths from cholera had been reported from noon yesterday to noon today.

BROMBERG, Prussia, Sept. 26—One case of suspicious illness, probably cholera, has been reported in this district.

MARIENWERDER, West Prussia, Sept. 26—Two new cases of cholera have been discovered here.

PROOF OF THE END OF WHISKEY WAR

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 26—Independent and trust distillers announce an increase of 1 cent in the price for finished spirits today. This makes the price $1.35. The reason given for the advance is the proportionate advance and scarcity of corn.

It is the opinion of both factions to the increase that this is proof of the end of the whisky war.

NO RIGHT TO COMMIT SUICIDE

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD MEMBERS MUST POSTPONE ACT FOR FIVE YEARS.

STILLWELL IN WRONG RESIDENCE

THEATRICAL MAN CAUGHT BY WOMAN, WHO SENDS FOR POLICE.

Members of the Fraternal Brotherhood have no right to commit suicide with the expectation of collecting the amount of their policy unless such action is postponed until after they have been members of the order for five years, according to the present by-laws of the order, which were upheld by Judge Waste this morning, and all policies are subject to changes made in the constitution of the order.

The decision came as a surprise to Henry M. Schack of Livermore, this morning, who has brought suit against the Fraternal Brotherhood for a $2000 life insurance policy taken out by his father James A. Schack, who committed suicide a couple of years after he had become a member of the order.

It was shown that at the time Schack had joined the order in 1900 the by-laws stated in regard to suicides, that if satisfactory proof was given the Supreme Lodge of the Insanity of the person the money would be paid.

Later, however, the by-laws were changed to read that policies were void if the person commits suicide within five years of the time of taking out the policy. It, however, was contended by Attorney C. G. Nagle, representing the order, that the policy was taken out before the amendment.

He had the alternative of spending twenty-four days in jail.

Crittenden lived with Mr. and Mrs. Copening. It is alleged that he obstructed the meals served and showed his discontent by hitting the woman.

Albert Ward Stillwell, pioneer theatrical man, got his bearings twisted last night and went to the wrong house when he wished to retire. As a result there was all kinds of excitement on Jefferson street and a burglar alarm summoned the police to straighten it off the difficulty.

Stillwell lives at the boarding-house conducted by Mrs. A. B. Hughes at 1110 Jefferson street. Last evening Albert met several convivial friends and, after an evening of pleasure, he decided to retire for the night.

He visited his house, instead of entering the Hughes' house, he got into the home of Mrs. Louis Parsons at 1112 Jefferson street. He was found prowling around the house looking for his room-mate, Mrs. Parsons, who, instead of screaming caught him by the collar and held him white the other excited inmates of the house telephoned for the police.

The would-be groom grinned and showed his white teeth, but evidently did not take her words seriously.

He now is Allen L. Hunt, while the bride was Mrs. Hazel L. Heywood, the daughter of Mrs. Mary G. Heywood of 1865 Union street.

The bride was not present, but the mother stated to Deputy County Clerk Zimmerman that the young woman worried her so much about her getting married that she had finally consented to come down and give her consent to the match. The groom gave his age as twenty-nine.

FINAL REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

has investigated all matters brought before it and if the evidence produced did not justify further action the matter was dropped, such matters as warranted further attention on its part or on the part of the county officers will be mentioned hereafter in the body of this report.

COUNTY CLERK.

All accounts were found to be correct.

We strongly recommend that some consistent system of filing of public documents and records be formulated for this office and inaugurated at the earliest possible time, the present manner of doing this being illogical, inconsistent and inefficient.

All matters pertaining to the conduct of county elections are placed in the charge of the County Clerk and as there apparently is no limit to the expense which may be incurred in this regard, nor redress for its abuse, this Grand Jury desires to call attention, with particular emphasis, to the large cost of the last county election, which amounted to the sum of $65,224.70, which being itemized reads as follows:

Clerks	$ 4,053.29
Newspapers, advertising.....	32,547.57
Labor on booths and team- ing	8,186.64
Rent and loss of furniture ...	577.10
Typewriting	187.50
Rent of polling places	1,841.00
Delivering returns	619.00
Officers	16,302.00
J. B. Lanktree	4,360.91
J. P. Cook, registering voters.	232.45
Miscellaneous	346.44
	$65,224.70

Some of these items are fixed and prescribed by the law, notably the number and compensation of election officers.

The payment of $4,360.91 to J. B. Lanktree was for posting election proclamations, election supplies, delivering ballots, ballot paper, guides to election officers, and certificates of abstract of election returns.

On two occasions the county paid for typewriting election proclamations at the rate of twenty (20) cents a copy for originals and ten (10) cents a copy for copies amounting to $157.50 for this item alone. There are a number of other items that will bear investigation and we suggest that the Grand Jury next following take this matter up for investigation in further detail.

COUNTY RECORDER:

All accounts found correct.

In connection with this office we beg to quote and repeat from the report of the Grand Jury impanelled December 8, 1903, to wit:

"We consider that a mistake was made in putting the new cases on the floor of the Recorder's office, as they are a hindrance to a free and clear view of the records from the Recorder's desk, and we therefore recommend that the Recorder's office be fitted with a gallery as originally intended, around said office, and that such cases as are now standing on the floor obstructing the view be removed to said gallery, and the books which are the least handled in the office be placed in the cases in the gallery."

"We also recommend that bars be placed at the windows of the copyists room of the Recorder's office, thus prohibiting the possibility of entrance to the Recorder's office from the rooms made a matter of investigation by the Board of Education.

This jury would recommend to the several Boards of Education that all school houses be equipped, so far as may be possible, with fire-alarm boxes, stand pipes, fire extinguishers and other similar safe guards.

COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR.

In connection with this office we desire to say that the entire tax roll for 1904-05 was checked by our expert. This has not been attempted by any former Grand Jury for previous years.

All accounts were found correct.

COUNTY TREASURER.

All accounts were correct.

The undue expenditure of public funds noted in this report prohibits us from making any suggestions or recommendations for the improvements of this office further than that the windows should be protected by means of strong heavy gratings.

We recommend, however, that a safe deposit box be provided at some bank in Oakland for the safe keeping of the County funds and that the same be done at regular intervals and that the practice of depositing these funds at some bank be discontinued, the public interests being thus more safeguarded. We would quote in this connection Section 424 of the penal code and Section 88 of the County Government Act, referring to the care of public money:

"1. Without authority of law, appropriates the same, or any portion thereof, to his own use or to the use of another; or

"2. Loans the same or any portion thereof, makes any profit out of, or uses the same for any purpose not authorized by law; or

"3. Knowingly keeps any false account, or makes any false entry or erasure in any account of or relating to the same; or

"4. Fraudulently alters, falsifies, conceals, destroys or obliterates any such account; or

"5. Wilfully refuses or omits to pay over, on demand, any public moneys in his hands, upon the presentation of a draft, order, or warrant drawn upon such moneys by competent authority; or

"6. Wilfully omits to transfer the same, when such transfer is required by law; or

"7. Wilfully omits or refuses to pay over to any officer or person authorized by law to receive the same any money received by him under any duty imposed by law so to pay over the same;

"8. Is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison for not less than one year, more than ten years, and is disqualified from holding any office in this State."

This applies to the County Treasurer, and unless the Treasurer should follow Section 88 of the County Government Act, he would be subject to the provisions of Section 424 referred to.

Section 88 is as follows:

"The County Treasurer must keep all moneys belonging to this State, or to any county of this State, in his own possession, until disbursed according to law. He must not place the same in the possession of any person to be used for any purpose; nor must he loan, or in any manner use, or permit any person to use the same, except as provided by law, or in this section prohibits him from making special deposits for the safe keeping of the public moneys; but he shall be liable therefor on his official bond."

Under this section, the Treasurer is authorized to make special deposits for the safe keeping of the public moneys.

The District Attorney quoting Bowler, who adopts 43 Ill. Appeals, 340, defines a special deposit to be "A deposit made with the understanding that the identical money deposited shall be returned to the depositor." It will be seen that with the public funds deposited as they now are, this is neither practicable nor possible.

COUNTY EXPERT.

The duties of the County Expert should include that before approving any bill against the county he should have positive knowledge that the supplies or work for which the bill is a claim have been delivered or has been performed respectively; this is important, is not the case, in many instances all that is necessary is the oath of the person furnishing the supplies or doing the work that the same has been performed, the expert's duties requiring him to go no further than to check quantities and costs.

The custom of permitting bills from corporations to be sworn to by individuals whose connection with or authority for these corporations does not appear should be discontinued, and the oath of a duly authorized officer only of these corporations be accepted.

The action on the part of the Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors of non-existing bills, the head of the County Expert, which he has refused to approve is to be condemned and we commend the County Expert for having refused to approve a number of printing bills in which irregularities and overcharges appeared to the extent of several thousands of dollars, notwithstanding which the bills were passed by the Finance Committee and paid.

This jury would most earnestly recommend that each department keep an account of the supplies ordered by it.

During the recent investigation of the frauds perpetrated upon the county the charges made for stationery supplies it became apparent that not a county officer but was guilty of the grossest negligence in the matter of ordering and receiving these supplies; we are informed that the county expert is now devising a system which will successfully prevent a repetition of this imposition.

The matter of frauds in the rendering of bills for stationery was thoroughly investigated and while it was found that this same was done and increasing of the bills has been going on for number of years it was impossible to obtain sufficient reliable evidence to sustain a charge of fraud save for the last fiscal year, for frauds in bills during that period we have found six indictments against Otto L. Haas of the Central News Company.

OTHER COUNTY EMPLOYES.

The number of employees in each department is limited by the County Government Act, we find that each department has its full quota of statutory employees, whether necessary or not, we are convinced after examination that the services of many employees could be dispensed with without detriment to the county, in fact it would react to its financial benefit, we fail to note the need of a store keeper at the Hall of Records, (this service should be performed by a clerk in the County Clerk's office, without interference with his other duties) we should take upon itself the thorough inspection of the six theaters in Oakland and as a result would report that the facilities for fire protection varied greatly in the different theaters, being reasonably good in some to a total lack in others. All of them were found wanting in many essential and important requirements, and as the City of Oakland has no fire ordinances particularly applicable to theaters this Jury would strongly recommend to the city authorities the framing of a comprehensive city fire ordinance without delay as it deems absolutely essential, it would also recommend that the sanitary condition of some of the smaller theaters be made a matter of investigation by the Board of Education.

This jury would recommend to the several Boards of Education that all school houses be equipped, so far as may be possible, with fire-alarm boxes, stand pipes, fire extinguishers and other similar safe guards.

SAN FRANCISCO. Sept. 26.—Aubrey L. Rice and W. B. Gilman were arrested today in their apartments at the Palace Hotel on a charge of fraudulently obtaining $6,500 from the United National Bank of Providence, R. I.

Charles F. Corbett who was with them when the arrests were made, was also taken into custody.

The men are being held at the prison pending instructions from the East. They declare their innocence of any crime. Rice says he is now a broker, but was formerly connected, editorially, with the Boston-American.

Gilman also says he is a broker and all three claim to be interested in British Columbia mining properties which they were.

According to Manager Reimer of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, Gilman is accused of introducing Rice to the president of the Providence bank from whom he secured a loan of $6,000 on stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

It is said to have been arranged to borrow more money on the same stock when the detectives were notified and the men took alarm and fled. Rice and insists that if any mistake has been made it is only liable in a civil suit.

The romantic life of Mrs. Mae McAtee came to a close last night when she succumbed to an operation at St. John's Hospital.

Mrs. McAtee was the widow of the late Clark Yerrick, a Key Route employee who was electrocuted three years ago.

After her husband's death she married Mr. McAtee, who was employed by the Oakland Traction Company as a motorman.

She soon had trouble with McAtee, alleging that he had married her for her money.

When she refused to give him money for his brother, she alleges McAtee left her.

At the time of McAtee's desertion Charles A. Broad, the woman's father, threatened to kill the motorman and considerable excitement was the result.

She has been ill since McAtee deserted her about three months ago. She was a native of California, aged 45 years.

WOODMEN TEMPLE

A deed was placed on record this afternoon for the site of the Woodmen Temple to be erected in this city at a cost of approximately $75,000. The site is at the northwestern corner of Jefferson and Sixteenth street, one hundred feet square, and was sold by George H. Derrick to the Woodmen of the World Building Association.

It is proposed to erect a building on this site that will be the finest temple on the Coast.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26.—The defense in the case of E. J. Emmons, the former Senator charged with bribery, opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Grove L. Johnson made a series of motions to strike out the testimony of Russell, Grange, Tichenor, Olden and McNab relating to the $100 additional made up in marked bills, and that of Bunkers, Jordan and Lee, on the ground that no conspiracy had been shown. These motions to strike out were overruled as fast as made, Johnson noting exceptions.

Johnson then made his opening statement. He said it would be shown that Emmons never on the night of January 18th or at any other time, entered into an agreement with any member of the committee on commissions and retrenchment to seek money from any source; that the meeting at which the committee organized did not last till after 11 o'clock, as Bunkers had testified to; that Bunkers and Wright did not accompany Emmons to Tenth and K streets; that the defendant was appointed to his place on the committee voluntarily and without solicitation by Lieutenant-Governor Alden Anderson.

Johnson said he would show by testimony that Gavin McNab knew the Continental Building and Loan Association was going to be investigated in good faith, that the prosecution is not conducted for the people but by and for the Continental Building and Loan Association, and that the only interest the people of this county have in the case is to pay the very great growing out of the prosecution.

Johnson went on through the long list of allegations advanced by the prosecution, saying he would disprove them one by one. He added that it would be shown that Emmons never met Jordan and talked with him on any subject other than that a legislator might talk to a newspaper man.

Johnson said he would prove by numerous witness who have known them for years that Henry Hartling and George N. Tichenor, the detectives who worked up the case, are men who cannot be believed under oath. Johnson added that he would show that the testimony of Arthur E. Lee, the colored cloak room attendant, who said he had the custody of the marked bills, was false.

The attorney also said that he would prove that Clarence Grange was a conspirator and that instead of using money to entrap these Senators he actually went to other men engaged in building and loan business and tried to induce them to contribute money to a corruption fund.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26.—E. A. Puschell of Bakersfield, who came to Sacramento with Emmons on September 9th and lodged with him at an up-town hotel, was the first witness called this morning. The purpose of putting Puschell on the stand was to prove Emmons' signature. Puschell said he did not register at the hotel, neither did he see Emmons register. The hotel register was then sent for and a short recess was taken pending the arrival of a witness for the prosecution.

SHOWN REGISTER.

Upon reconvening, Puschell was again called to the stand and he was shown the hotel register. He said that neither the entry of Emmons or his own name had been made by him. Seymour then offered the entry of Emmons' name as an exemplar of the defendant's handwriting. Johnson objected and called James L. Flannigan, the clerk of the hotel, to the stand. Flannigan told of the busy times about the hotel by reason of the large number of arrivals for the electric carnival.

Flannigan said he could not tell whether Emmons registered for himself and Puschell or whether he had registered at all. Flannigan said, in answer to questions by District Attorney Seymour, and against an objection by Johnson, that Attorney R. Platnauer, who is associated with the prosecution, visited him yesterday and asked if he believed a certain entry in the register had been made by Emmons. Flannigan said he told Platnauer he was not positive, but believed Emmons had made the entry.

KNEW THE SIGNATURE.

Seymour then presented a specimen of Emmons' handwriting, which the witness identified. Johnson fought the introduction of this example of handwriting but was overruled by the Court. This document was Emmons' oath of office as Senator from the Thirty-second district, and it was admitted in evidence.

GRANGE ON THE STAND.

Clarence Grange, secretary and manager of the Phoenix Building and Loan Association, who was on the stand several days ago was recalled.

Grange testified last week that Jordan had approached him as the authorized agent of the boodling Senators and named $600 as the price each Senator would require to forego an adverse report on certain building and loan associations.

Jordan last Saturday testified that if Grange had made such a declaration he had committed wilful and wanton perjury.

The expectation was that this question would be taken up again this morning, but such was not the case. Grange was asked about some minor details of his testimony given last week and was excused without cross-examination.

CALLAGHAN BYRNE, clubman and capitalist and brother of James W. Byrne, president of the Pacific Union Club, was defendant today in a suit for $355.30 for baby clothes in which to robe the first born of the house of Byrne. Mrs. Byrne is now divorced from her husband.

DESCRIBES MASSACRE HORRORS

Scores of People Are Butchered With Fiendish
Cruelty.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Interesting incidents of the experiences of Englishmen connected with the oil industry at Bakau are reaching their relatives in England. Williams, one of four Englishmen rescued from a mob at Balakhan, writes that the stories of the horrors give but a feeble idea of the actual occurrences. He adds:

"I was shut up in my place at Zabrait for five days without any water except Naizan (local mineral water). All the people here were crying and fainting. All around were fires and rifle shots.

"Ten Armenians were killed out of those in our own yard. You could not walk a yard without several shots being fired at you."

"We tried to save the wounded but the shooting was too general and we had to give up the attempt."

HUNDREDS ARE KILLED.

Edward McCallum, another rescued British subject, fully confirms the stories of massacre, burning and pillage. After describing the commencement of the outbreak September 2, when the Armenians massacred 300 Tartars, he describes how during the night of September 6th Tartars entered the workmen's barracks at Romani and massacred everybody in them within an hour.

Five hundred Tartars surrounded the works where McCallum was stationed and forced him to give up the Armenians hiding on the premises.

"Fourteen of these were butchered in our yard with fiendish brutality," he says. "One man had his entire stomach cut out."

"The hand sacked the neighborhood in the most systematic manner. They had carts ready to take away their plunder to the Tartar villages. Fifty Cossacks with a police chief arrived on the scene, but did not do anything but look on at the work of massacre.

"The whole time we were besieged we lived on condensed salt water."

GASOLINE CAR A SUCCESS

TRIALS SHOW THAT IT IS FITTED FOR RAIL-ROADS.

(San Francisco Call)

Experiments made last week with the second gasoline motor car turned out of the shops of the Union Pacific Railroad in an effort to prove its practicability. A speed of sixty-three miles an hour was attained. This section of the road was selected for the test because it includes one of the steepest grades in the main system, and this the motor climbed with the greatest ease.

It is intended to use these gasoline motors for interurban and local lines, for which they are much better adapted than the steam locomotive. The employment of the railcar in urban and suburban service is often the means of creating an interval between the middle and upper classes to property. The Mission district in this city and the communities on the eastern bay shore have been long sufferers from the use of steam locomotives in the local lines. The gasoline motor car is destined to displace the steam locomotive on local lines, because its operation is cleaner and cheaper and less noisy to the community.

Gasoline is one of the light and volatile by-products of petroleum refining. Its adoption as fuel for railroading is the direct result of its success as a motor for motor cars, which were originally designed for pleasure only. The exceeding cheapness of gasoline makes it a very economical fuel; and so many improvements have been made of years in the appliances for its storage and in the methods of its consumption that every element of danger associated with its use as fuel has been entirely abolished. The employment of gasoline as fuel for railroading is the first step in the way to the new railroad motors will be to benefit to petroleum refineries as it will expand the field of consumption.

This is a prize of $500 offered for the best essay on "The prevention of disease in the army and the best methods of accomplishing that result."

Revenue and Religion

The sermon on "What a Woman Likes in a Man," delivered by Rev. Robert Whittaker at the Twenty-third avenue Baptist Church Sunday evening, abounds in epigram and much sound sense, but nevertheless the reverend gentleman is rather too sweeping in his generalizations. His remarks have the fault that too often attends brilliant epigram—inaccuracy. Taken in its general sense, however, there is no question that Dr. Whittaker has struck at the vice of money marriages with telling effect. Still, we cannot agree with him that "half the moral failures of men are due to the fact that their womenkind want revenue from the man more than they want religion in him." This is holding women to too large an account. It is quite as necessary in a family to have revenue as it is to have religion. Too many so-called Christians are niggard providers and demand too much in the shape of labor and sacrifice from their womenkind. Men of that stamp are moral failures as well as poor husbands, but their shortcomings cannot be blamed on the women. A man can be a loving helpmeet and a liberal cashier to his wife and still be a good Christian. Christianity, like charity, should begin at home. It should prompt men to do all reasonably within their power to lighten the burdens of their wives and make the atmosphere of the home radiant with the sunshine of pleasant manners and creature comforts. The heart and the stomach have to be fed as well as the soul. Who of us do not know men who are regular in their attendance at church, givers to missions and sanctimonious in mien and habit, yet who are harsh and forbidding at home, selfish in demanding their own comfort to the sacrifice of the comfort of all else in the household, who exact obedience to unreasonable commands, and deny their families many innocent pleasures, who make life unnecessarily hard to their women folks, and who practice parsimony and domestic tyranny under pretense of enforcing Christian discipline? It is not strange that women brought up in such households or in close contact with them sometimes go to the other extreme and place the good provider above the good Christian in seeking a husband. Let us not decry religion, but, on the other hand, let us not decry the Christian virtue of supplying wives with decent revenue. Let us not have religion and revenue antagonize each other. Rather, let us have religion and revenue go hand in hand under the family roof tree, and then we may be sure that there will be love between husband and wife as well as love of the Lord.

In Nevada, as in California, criminals sentenced to death are executed privately in the State Prison. Recently the Warden detailed some of the guards to perform the necessary offices in executing some condemned murderers. The guards refused to obey the Warden's orders, contending that they were not employed to act as hangmen, and were summarily discharged. That should have closed the incident, but it seems that certain morbid people are disposed to condemn the Warden for discharging such of his subordinates as disobey orders. The Warden did perfectly right. There was no other course open to him after the men had flatly mutinied. If they did not like the job they should have resigned, not refused to obey and still expected to hold their positions. Of course, it is an unpleasant duty to assist at a hanging, but it is a duty which must be performed by some one. The law requiring the Warden to execute criminals does not imply that he shall personally attend to all the details of executions, any more than it implies that he shall perform all the other duties about the prison. Insubordination is the bane of prison management, and it should be sternly repressed whenever it shows its head. Whenever a prison Warden allows his subordinates to defy his orders, there is an end to effective discipline. The exigencies of his position demand that he exact implicit obedience.

The course of justice has struck another snag in Canada. By order of the Chief Justice of British Columbia, Bigamist Collins is allowed to be at liberty under surveillance of the Sheriff. He lives expensively at a hotel while the Sheriff or one of his minions keeps watch and ward over him. Now the question of who is to pay the bill has obtruded itself on the official mind. Collins says he not, and he likewise refuses to go to jail. The Sheriff has no he can draw on to pay the bill and the State of California is of mind to board Collins at a first-class hotel. It is a very embarrassing complication all round. Apparently there is nothing to be done but charge Collins' grub account up to the Chief Justice.

The enormous registration on the eve of the election presages the casting of an unprecedentedly heavy vote in the San Francisco municipal election. The new vote is likely to decide whether Schmitz or Partridge shall be Mayor, but it seems that the politicians on both sides are unable to class it. At the last election the vote cast was smaller than was expected or was warranted by the registration. The phenomenon may be repeated this year, but it is hardly likely. The community across the bay seems aroused and determined on a finish fight, consequently many men who do not ordinarily vote at local elections are registering and will go to the polls in November. The popular opinion is that this is favorable to Partridge.

Mr. Bryan's Unwaning Popularity

For a man so often defeated for the Presidency, Mr. Bryan retains a wonderful hold on the rank and file of his party. For a man whose policies have been so flatly repudiated and so signally refuted by the logic of events, he commands remarkable attention from the country at large. It is well worth inquiring why this is so.

It is mainly because the public reposes confidence in the moral integrity of Mr. Bryan while unable to agree with the measures he suggests as a remedy for existing evils and as a preventive for graver threatened evils. Mr. Bryan voices a moral protest against certain practices and tendencies in politics and business to which the nation at large is responsive. It is only when Mr. Bryan formulates plans for the correction and abatement of these practices and tendencies that he finds public sentiment opposed to him. In other words, the country accepts Mr. Bryan's diagnosis as correct, but rejects the remedies he proposes as empirical and impractical. His sincerity is conceded and admired; his judgment alone is questioned. Nevertheless, there are millions of his countrymen who still believe in the efficacy of Mr. Bryan's policies, notwithstanding the weaving in the web of time and the irrefutable argument of accomplished facts.

Thus we see that the great majority of Americans regard Mr. Bryan from two separate and distinct points of view. As a moral issue he is captivating; his earnestness is sublime and contagious; his frank sincerity and his warm sympathy with the masses inspire affectionate admiration; his courage and his faith in the people compel esteem and respect. But as a statesman Mr. Bryan is regarded as unsafe by the great body of his countrymen. The men readiest to concede his moral earnestness, the benevolence of his purpose and the desirability of the objects he seeks to accomplish are the first to question the wisdom of his suggestions, the practicability of his policies. They agree with him heartily half the way and disagree with him as heartily the other half. Still, they like Mr. Bryan.

This, in great part, accounts for the fact that Mr. Bryan is today, after being twice defeated for the Presidency, personally the most popular man in the nation, save President Roosevelt, who has achieved a popularity without parallel in our national history. Sometimes Mr. Bryan strikes a note that warms all hearts toward him. On occasion he speaks the language of elevated statesmanship. But when he suggests constructive measures and outlines policies in the concrete the stars fall out of his rhetoric as the burning powder and tinsel of the expiring rocket fade out of the sky. The appeal has been to the imagination, not to the reason. Yet Mr. Bryan says many things with which all of us can cordially agree. For instance, he said in his speech at Berkeley last night:

"Higher than any party ideal is the national ideal. The one national ideal in America has been that ours is the one flag that stands for human rights and the doctrine of independence. Our much boasted Anglo-Saxon civilization has taught men to protect their own rights. I wish to go one step further and have American civilization teach men to respect the rights of others. The Anglo-Saxon ideal has taught men to die for their own rights. I would have the American ideal have men to die rather than trample on the rights of others. If I may be permitted to touch upon a recent event, I would say that the President's act in bringing two warring powers to peace on American soil has done more to establish this Nation's prestige than a generation of wars of conquest."

Here is a lofty ideal—and Mr. Bryan's ideals are generally lofty—a noble aspiration for a race. Unfortunately, the difficulty lies in the application, which is the trouble with most of Mr. Bryan's suggestions.

But Mr. Bryan will soon leave us to spend a year in foreign travel. The American people will wish him bon voyage and trust he will return home a wiser and happier man. Amid the ruins wrought by vanity, selfishness, corruption and empirical statesmanship that he will encounter abroad he will have opportunity and leisure to study out more closely the relation of cause to effect. His mind, a keenly intelligent one and altogether too imaginative and impressionable, will broaden and expand, while his judgment will ripen and become more catholic. It is our hope that he will enjoy his sojourn abroad and so profit by the schooling of travel that he will return a statesman and not a mere political diagnostician.

The little town of Sonoma has voted $10,000 bonds for the erection of a new city hall. Ten thousand dollars is relatively as large to Sonoma as $500,000 would be to Oakland. But, then, there is difference between Oaklanders and the inhabitants of Sonoma. Which is why we vote down city hall propositions while they are voted up in Sonoma.

It is stated by all the San Francisco papers that there is likely to be a bolt from the Republican convention when the fusion program comes up for endorsement. The intimation is that the minority led by Ruef will walk out and nominate a "straight Republican ticket," with Schmitz at its head. Whether this takes place or not matters little. If it did take place it would have no appreciable effect on the voting next November. Nobody would be controlled by such action, let alone deceived by it. Ninety per cent of the voters of San Francisco have their minds already made up as to who they will vote for. A still larger proportion thoroughly understand all about the line-up. A bolt would accomplish little. Every delegate that will walk out will vote for Schmitz anyway. So what's the use? For our part, we think Ruef has already blundered in permitting his followers to disturb the proceedings of the Republican convention.

A COMEDY OF BOWING.

Boy—Oh, Papa! See the poor man bowing. Who is he bowing to?
Father—He is bowing to his foreman, my son.
Boy—Oh, Papa! See the poor foreman bowing. Who is he bowing to?
Father—He is bowing to the contractor, my son.
Boy—Papa! Look! Papa! The contractor is bowing. Who is the poor contractor bowing to?
Father—My precious boy, he is bowing to the capitalist who owns this street.
Boy—Look! Look! Papa! The poor capitalist is bowing. See! See! They are all bowing! Who are they bowing to?
Father—My dear boy, they are bowing to that old, bald-headed man. His name is John D.—
Boy—Papa! See! See! Golly! The bald-headed man is bowing! Who's he bowing to?
Father—My boy, he is evidently bowing to God. No, my son, I am mistaken, he is bowing to his only friend on earth—that big cut-glass mirror!
Boy—Does the mirror like it, Papa?
Excuse—Papa dragging boy.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy relieves confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but it gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

LOOKING BACKWARDS.

We stood alone in the midnight's glory
And watched the stars in the mid-night glow,
And the breath of the rose like a sweet
Love-story
Swept out from the vales of the long ago.

Then the night dispersed with her darksome shadows
And the smile of the day spread east and west
And a maiden came o'er the gold-flecked meadows
With the rose and the lily upon her breast.

You thought her some beautiful rare illusion,
She looked so innocent, sweet and true,
And you stared and stared in strange confusion,
Though you knew she was once the youth of you.

The fair wide world stretched out before her,
With never a shadow to mar its grace,
And the beautiful blossoms around and o'er her,
And the bloom of the summer upon her face.

Twas thus you left her within the meadows,
When you turned to wander one summer's day.
Time brought you roses, and thorns,
and shadows,
But the sunshine lingered around her way.

And now at the vision your eyes brim over,
And the hot tears fall like April rain,
And "Oh," you cry, "for the fields of clover
And the cloudless days of youth again!"

Yet, yet, if those days had ne'er departed,
If life was ever one blissful May,
Would you be the gentle and tender-hearted
The beautiful woman you are today?

The blossoms that blow unto rarest beauty.
Have felt the shadows, the rain and sun.
There's a rose for love—and a thorn for duty—
And a crown for a cross when the journey's done.

The days that come drearily robed in gloom
Are blessings sent from the hand of love,
And the rain and shadows but brighten the bloom
That blossom for you in the valleys above.

cript.

THE ABLE DEALER.

State Geologist Kummel of New Jersey was talking about forestry, which can be claimed to be very profitable in the State of white sand and scrub "What is needed," he said, "is intelligence, business head, the sort of ability which, though often misapplied, still makes John Maldment's store the most popular and successful one in a 50-mile radius.

"John Maldment sells everything. Let me give you an example of his talent. A woman, warm and furious got out of a wagon the other day and entered Maldment's big, cool store.

"Look here," she said, "that rocking chair you sold me yesterday was no good."

"How so, madam?" Maldment asked.

"Why," said the woman, "the rockers are not even. As you rock, the good for nothing chair keeps sliding sideways all over the room."

"By Jingo!" he said. "I made a mistake and sent one of our new patent rockers unarranged not to wear out carpet all in one place. That style costs

$2 more than the others."

"But the woman had turned and was already nearly out of the store."

"Mistake or no mistake," she said, "I won't pay the extra $2 and I won't return the chair—so there!"

GYPSY RAINMAKERS IN ROUMANIA.

In Roumania the failure of the maize means starvation for the peasants and accordingly they seek to insure a good harvest by a ceremony that resembles the necromancy of the remote parts of Africa. Gypsy girls and women of almost a hundred years old, wearing but a kit of flowers and leaves, gold and silver coins and charms in their hair, bubbles and a toe ring with a large stone go from house to house singing a strange rhyme, in which a power invoked as "Barbarouda" is implored to send rain that her children may not starve. After they have visited every house and received a few coppers, they run through the village and are pelted with water by the peasants. Anyone who misses throwing some over them is accounted unlucky. In times of great drought the ceremony is observed in the largest towns, and even in the outskirts of the capital itself.—Illustrated London News.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

ELABORATE WEDDING HELD IN CHURCH

MISS CORDELIA BISHOP WILL BECOME BRIDE OF DR. ALDERSON.

The marriage this evening of Miss Cordelia Bishop and Dr. Harry Alderson will be one of the society events of the month. Over 300 invitations have been issued for the ceremony at the First Congregational Church. The Rev. Chas. R. Brown will officiate.

The church has been decorated with fall palms and pink and blue are the colors predominating in the floral decorations. The house where an informal reception to relatives and a few close friends will be held after the ceremony, is decorated in the same dainty combination of pink and blue.

The bride will wear a beautiful gown of white messoline trimmed with a berthe of real lace and the bridal costume will be finished with a long tulle veil. She will carry a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Anita Oliver, will wear an attractive costume of pink and white Dresden silk and will carry white tiger lillies.

The bridesmaids, Miss Carolyn Oliver and Miss Lillian Remillard, will wear gowns of pale blue messoline made in princess style and each fair maid will carry an armful of pink tiger lillies.

William Alderson, brother of the groom, will act as best man.

The ushers will include George Jensen, Edward Pomeroy, Dr. Raymond Russ, Dr. Harold Hill.

Dr. Alderson and his bride leave this evening on a honeymoon trip and on their return will occupy their cosy home in San Francisco.

LARGE RECEPTION.

Mrs. Gordon Stoltz will be hostess Friday afternoon at an elaborate reception to be given at her home on Lake street. The event promises to be one of the most delightful of the week. The hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock. Between two and three hundred guests are bidden, and a large receiving party will assist the hostess, including Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. George Augur, Mrs. George H. Wheaton, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Alfred von der Ropp, Mrs. E. M. Walsh, Mrs. J. R. Burnham, Mrs. M. V. Kales, Mrs. Charles Minor Goodall, Mrs. R. G. Brown, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts, Mrs. Edwin Goodall, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. E. D. York, Mrs. Robert S. Knight, Mrs. William Meek, Mrs. T. Arthur Crellin, Mrs. F. M. Dunwoody, Mrs. W. Lynn Shiel, Mrs. H. G. Thomas, Mrs. A. Schilling, Mrs. James P. Neville, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mrs. Traylor Bell, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. William H. Morrison, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Lucretia Burnham, Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Rose Kales, Miss Jessie Fox, Miss Schilling, Miss Chrissie Taft, Miss Pauline Fore, Miss Marion Goodell, Miss May Coogan, Miss Claire Chabot, Miss Georgia Strong, Miss Sevilla Hayden, Miss Mona Crellin and Miss Eva York.

CLUB OPENING.

The California Club has named Thursday, October 5, for the formal opening of its new club rooms. In the afternoon of October 3 an informal gathering will be held for members only for the inspection of their new home. On the following Thursday, however, there will be the large reception for an assemblage of over 1,000 guests.

GOING AWAY.

Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf and Miss Nellie Chabot leave today for Washington, D. C., to spend the winter. Miss Viva Nicholson will probably go East for the later winter season.

SONG RECITAL.

The song recital given last evening by Mrs. Beatrice Priest Fine was one of the musical successes of the month and a large audience greeted the gifted singer. The program was artistic from the first to the last number and Mrs. Fine was complimented on the result of her earnest study.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The Guilds of Trinity Parish announce a "birthday party" to be given Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Agnes Borland, 1925 Summit street. There will be a musical program and refreshments will be served. The proceeds will be devoted to the building of the infant class room and Guild Hall.

The reception committee will include Mrs. E. B. Castlin, Mrs. G. A. Easton, Mrs. Clifton Macon, Mrs. F. N. French, Mrs. F. B. Ellis, Mrs. F. B. Galindo, Mrs. John Bakewell, Mrs. G. C. Ryno, Miss Mary F. Williams, Mrs. T. B. Coghill.

AT LUNCHEON.

Isaac Upshaw was the guest of MISS CORDELIA BISHOP, who will wed Dr. Harry Alderson this evening.

honor at luncheon given recently by Mrs. Charles K. Harley at her home in Menlo Park.

CHURCH BENEFIT.

An entertainment for the benefit of the building fund of St. Mary's Parish is announced for the evening of October 12 at Ye Liberty Playhouse. The play will be given by the Neill Company and a great social and financial success is assured. Miss Berenice Macdonald is one of the interested workers for the success of the event and the proceeds are to be added to the receipts of her booth at the coming fair.

EBELL CLUB.

An elaborate reception this afternoon at Ebell was one of the important social events of the week and scores of guests crowded the attractive club rooms. The reception was given by the board of directors, including Mrs. J. B. Hume, Mrs. Melvin C. Chapman, Mrs. William R. Davis, Miss Hill, Miss Eva Powell, Mrs. Ralph Kinney and Mrs. John Bakewell. They were assisted in receiving by Miss Mabel Thayer Gray, Miss M. R. Babson, Mrs. Gilbert R. Belcher, Mrs. T. G. Harrison, Mrs. H. C. Capwell; Mrs. G. A. Willard, Mrs. E. J. Cotton, Mrs. E. C. Timmerman, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. E. D. York, Mrs. A. H. Glascock and Mrs. W. A. Childs.

A stringed orchestra played during the afternoon and refreshments were dispensed by Miss Alma Brown, Miss Ada Brown, Miss Marion Everson, Miss Julia Fraser, Miss Addie and Carrie Gorrell, Miss Elizabeth Gray, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, Mrs. George Lackie, Mrs. William E. McIlwain, Mrs. William L. Pattiani, Miss Irene Rutherford and Miss Leonie Schmid.

OAKLAND CLUB.

Mrs. E. I. Bartholomew will have charge of the musical program tomorrow at the Oakland Club, which promises to be one of rare excellence. A number of the club members will assist Mrs. Bartholomew in receiving the guests.

Tomorrow morning the choral section of the Oakland Club will begin work under Clement Rowlands and it will be of interest to many to learn that the personnel of the choral section is not confined to club membership.

MONDAY CLUB.

Mrs. Charles Sutton was hostess yesterday at the first meeting of the Monday Club. Preceding the hour spent at bridge an Italian luncheon was served,

WIFE NO. 1 PUTS HIM IN JAIL; NO. 2 FREES HIM

IRWIN, Pa. Sept. 26.—Wife No. 1 determined to keep her husband in jail on a number of charges, from bigamy to larceny, and No. 2, just as determined to obtain bail to get him out, is the peculiar position today of C. V. Lehr, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor of this place.

Lehr, who had lived her with his wife and two children, seemed happy and contented, until a few days ago a well-dressed young woman, who was formerly Miss Mary Murray, came here from Pittsburgh and claimed him as a husband, charging bigamy. He was held under $1000 bail, and, failing to get a bondman, was sent to jail, until the Pittsburgh wife intervened, provided the bail, and secured his release.

Lehr was no sooner out of jail than he was arrested for larceny and receiving stolen goods, the warrant be-

Man Married His Second Wife in the Church in Which He Had Been Wedded to the First, Knowing That at the Time of the Ceremony His First Spouse Was Living Directly Across the Street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Knowing her husband and the father of her three little ones had practically deserted her for a newer face, and even that he had married her rival, Mrs. Adelaide Powers, of No. 50 Horatio street, she would have still forgiven his duplicity. But the children who were deprived of his care and affection were instrumental, in a roundabout way, in gaining justice for the mother who bore her wrongs patiently for five years.

The man was James J. Powers, and when he was arraigned in Essex Market Court yesterday on the charge of bigamy, he gave his home as No. 108 Bank street. In court were two pretty young women who claimed him as husband.

Powers married his second wife in the church in which he had been wedded to the first, knowing that at the time of the ceremony his first spouse was living directly across the street.

The Rev. John C. Palmer, pastor of the Emanuel Presbyterian Chapel, in West Sixth street, performed the second marriage, and Dr. Ovington, then pastor of the chapel, officiated for Mrs. Powers No. 1 in 1896. Mrs. Powers No. 1 and Mrs. Powers No. 2 have been living within five blocks of each other for the last two years, but had never met.

Powers was in the habit of calling occasionally upon his first wife, but made his home at No. 108 Bank street, where Mrs. Powers No. 2 is mistress of the home. Perhaps his double life would never have become known had he not become in arrears in his payments to the city for the board of his two children, who were in a city institution. Agent Watson, of the Children's Society, was asked to find the man, but his first wife, who lives at No. 50 Horatio street, could not tell where he was living.

Agent Watson finally discovered the man at the Bank street house and found, through the man's own confession, that he was married to a second wife without having a divorce from the first. He advised Mrs. Powers, of Horatio street, to have her husband arrested on the bigamy charge.

At her home yesterday Mrs. Powers No. 1, or Mrs. Adelaide Powers, said her husband had not been with her for more than a day or so at a time for five years.

"It was five years ago, this September," said she, "and only three weeks after my youngest child, Hazel, was born, that I heard of Miss Robinson, or, as she calls herself, Mrs. Powers. Her mother came to my home one morning to know if it was true that my husband was a married man. She was convinced when she saw me and saw my three children—Harry, Bella and Hazel.

"That night her daughter, Miss Marion Ray Robinson, came to see for herself, and quarreled with my husband in my presence. They did not speak to each other after that until New Year's, when Mr. Powers left me, and I have not seen him often since. I heard he was acquainted with Miss Robinson, but had no idea he had married her until Mr. Watson came to me and told me so."

Harry and Hazel, the youngest and oldest children of the Powers's, were sent to a city institution shortly after Powers abandoned his first wife, but Mrs. Powers insisted on keeping the second daughter, Bella. The first wife is employed by the National Biscuit Company, and is earning five dollars a week. She says her husband has given her so little for her support that she can barely clothe herself and child after paying the small rental to the girlhood friend with whom she now lives.

Mrs. Powers No. 2 was a saleswoman in a department store where Powers was a salesman when she first met him, and is a pretty, refined looking young woman, of whom Powers when questioned in court said yesterday:

"I thought she was such a nice young woman that it would be a good idea to marry her."

Powers now has a good trucking business and expressed the conviction that both women would be sorry when they found he had made a hundred dollars this week. Indeed, Mrs. Powers No. 2 was inclined to be forgiving, yesterday, and disappeared before the case came up.

"The cause of all the trouble in the world is woman," said Powers, when seen in prison yesterday. "They are fickle, or tempting, and we men are impulsive and do things before we think of the consequences. I am not a bad man, like Hoch, for I never took a cent from a woman in my life, but when a woman is unkind, and one falls in love with another, one is likely to get out of this trouble all right, but then, you never can tell."

MAY STAY UP LATE AS HE LIKES; COST $7 PER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—The point at issue in the case of Mrs. William Everett vs. William Everett was "How late can a good husband stay out at night?"

Unfortunately for the enlightenment of the matrimonial world, the question was not decided with exactness, but the Judge of the Desertion Court held that it would be a dangerous precedent to say that a man should be in bed every night at 9 o'clock. A Judge, especially if he is married, must be extremely cautious in ruling upon such matters.

Mrs. Everett admitted that her husband gave her virtually all the money he earned, and that he had never been drunk in his life; but she said that he "simply wouldn't be home at 9 o'clock" when she and her little girl wanted to go to bed.

"I just can't have it any more," she said. "Why, one night he came in at quarter to 12, and he walked me out of a sound sleep by jumping into bed. He had the nerve to try to excuse himself by saying that he had crept upstairs in his stocking feet so as not to waken me."

Everett listened to what his wife had to say without attempting to defend himself, until the Judge asked him for his version.

RED PEPPER IN THE BRIDEGROOM'S EYES STOPS WEDDING

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Jealousy, which has upset empires, ruined homes and been the motive for many of the great crimes of the world, rudely interrupted a wedding at Union Hill yesterday. At least, if jealousy were not the motive, the incident is inexplicable.

It is admitted that Charles Marsh, until recently had paid devoted attentions to Miss May Muller and that they had one of those trivial quarrels that could have been patched up in a trice had either made the first advances.

As neither did Marsh transferred his affections to Miss Lena Coy. All three of those concerned live in the same house, at No. 422 Union street. So the opportunities for Miss Muller to nurse her resentment of Marsh's "taking up" with another girl had full scope.

Perhaps the neighbors added to the girl's troubles and talked of the jilting. At a rate, everything was ready for the wedding of Miss Coy to Marsh yesterday morning, and news was carried from floor to floor of the house.

The going of the bride was to have been surreptitiously effected, but despite their best endeavors when the happy pair appeared at the door of the Coy apartment the hallway and stairs of the house swarmed with neighbors each laden with rice, and some with the usual supply of old slippers that are supposed to be a good talisman. A shout of welcome greeted the pair as they emerged from the doorway and descended the stairs. Then the rice was showered upon them, and the slippers, too.

"But in the medley of noise and laughter, as they hurried down

RUMOR ENGAGEMENT OF KING ALFONSO

Princess Ena to be a Royal Bride?

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—It is again rumored, according to an American dispatch from Madrid, that King Alfonso will marry and that the wedding will be celebrated May 17, 1906.

It is understood that the lady selected as the future Queen of Spain is the Princess Ena, of Battenberg, daughter of Prince Henry of Battenberg and niece to King Edward of England.

Official announcement of the betrothal will, the correspondent asserts, shortly be made.

POLICEMAN KISSED AND BIT HER, WOMAN SAYS.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—Petite, pretty and still furious, Mrs. M. B. Dick appeared today before the Police Board to give testimony against Policeman James Kilgallon, the handsome man on the force.

Mrs. Dick alleges that some nights since, while on her way home from a neighbor's, Kilgallon caught her, hugged her, kissed her and bit her lips.

She asks his discharge from the force.

"That him, there he is. He kissed me; he kissed me, gentlemen, and I want him punished," Mrs. Dick exclaimed as Kilgallon came into the room this morning accompanied by Superintendent of Police Wallace, who has taken up his side of the case.

Wallace declares that Mrs. Dick, who is wealthy, is trying to impose on an innocent policeman, and he will not have it.

Kilgallon asked for a postponement of the hearing and he got it. Asked what she did when Kilgallon kissed her and bit her lips, Mrs. Dick replied indignantly to Director Moore: "I told him I was surprised that a policeman would dare to do such a thing, and he told me he dare do anything."

the narrow stairs, arose a sudden cry of pain as they reached a dark corner of the first landing.

The cry was instantly followed by the scream of a girl. The bridegroom jumped forward and, grabbing the hand of one of the girls in the crowd, held it tight in one hand and, with the other clasped over his eye, cried, "Get a doctor, quick; she has blinded me."

The crowd of men and women in the hallway gathered around May Muller, loosened the hold of the man upon her hand and found in her palm a small pill box, empty, save for a few grains of red pepper that had clung to the rough inside of the box.

The girl was arrested. Then Dr. Mengen was called in to treat the injured man. The pepper had entered the eye only in a small quantity. When all of it was removed the doctor declared that Muller had had a very narrow escape from total blindness. While the physician was at work over her husband-to-be, Miss Coy fainted.

When Muller was restored to composure, instead of the wedding march there first was a march to the Union Hill Police Headquarters, where, with his bride-to-be upon his arm, and the neighbors in hundreds trooping behind, he went to prefer charges of assault against the Muller girl.

HARRY FOLEY ILLUSTRATES HOW HE'S GOING TO WIN FROM BIG AL KAUFMANN

(TRIBUNE'S Special Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Harry Foley's training camp down at Joe Mallett's place near Colma was crowded to suffocation Sunday afternoon.

Everyone had been reading of the fierce mix-ups Foley had been having with his sparring mate, colored Jack Johnson, and the crowd wanted to be in on some of it. They were not disappointed for having made the trip, for the big scrappers slugged one another all over the little gymnasium and first it would be one and then the other who looked to have a shade the worst of the milling.

Once Foley was knocked to his knees by the big colored heavyweight champion and a moment later Jack was sent crashing through the audience from the force of a left hook which landed fair and square on the point of the chin, the favorite spot upon which to place a knockout punch.

The crowd applauded both punches and the men were mixing it fiercely in the center of the floor when the time-keeper sent them to their corners.

FOLEY'S ACCURACY.

A feature of the boxing was the speed and accuracy with which Foley delivered his punches. An old timer, Frank Frayne, who watched the set-to, remarked that he had never seen blows landed with such precision as those Foley placed on Johnson's body and face.

Altogether Foley sparred nine rounds, three with Fred Landers, who is training for an affair at Vallejo, three with Joe Thomas, who is also a member of Foley's stable, and big Jack Johnson. The rounds were intermingled with shadow sparring which occupied the full minute between rounds and thereby gave no actual rest to the south-side lad who hopes to wallop the dickens out of Al Kaufmann next Thursday night.

At the end of the last round Foley worked for eight minutes on the heavy bag and then he wrestled for two rounds with Landers. At the conclusion of the work Foley was perspiring freely, but was not in the least bit uncomfortable from the heavy work.

"How long have I worked?" he asked of the timekeeper before he started to leave the gymnasium.

"You have been at it just 63 minutes," he was told.

This convinced Foley that he had done enough for the day and he retired to his dressing room where a few of his most favored visitors were admitted.

FOLEY CONFIDENT.

"Well, boys, I'm going to win this fight Thursday night as sure as you're a foot high," remarked Harry as he stepped for the shower.

"Why I have seen this fellow Kaufmann box a dozen times and if I don't beat him you can take my head for a football."

"Now, let me tell you," and at this juncture Foley grew confidential and he spoke in an undertone: "All I have to do to this fellow is to set and wait for him to lash out and, as soon as he steps in, place this right to the chin and it's curtains," and the tall, willowy-light heavyweight illustrated in fighting attitude a right wallop to the chin.

AL KAUFMANN BOXES WITH JOE KENNEDY

(TRIBUNE'S Special Service.)

CROLL'S GARDENS, ALAMEDA, Sept. 26.—Al Kaufmann put on the gloves Sunday with big Joe Kennedy, the old time sparring partner of Jim Jeffries, and when the four rounds had been finished Kennedy paid the young Olympic Club boxer the compliment of being a much better man than Jeffries was when Kennedy first started to work with him.

All during the four rounds between Kaufmann and Kennedy the former carried the going to Joe and his decided aggressiveness made it difficult for Kennedy to land a solid punch except when the Olympic Club lad was stepping in, but many of these blows were knocked to one side or taken on the top of the head where no damage could be done.

OTHER BOUTS.

When Kaufmann finished the bout with Kennedy he sparred three rounds with Ted Ryordan, another Olympic Club boxer, and a two-round bout with Willie Fitzgerald finished the boxing for the day.

A few minutes at shadow boxing and three rounds of work on the heavy swinging sand bag and a little wrestling with Joe Kennedy made up

OPINIONS OF SPORTS ON THE FIGHT.

ABE FRIEDLANDER—Kaufmann is a great man and I look to see a great fight. Foley is much the cleverer.

JIMMY BRITT—Don't ask me to pick a winner. I like both Kaufmann and Foley. They are excellent fighters and I am sure it will be a great contest.

MIKE BURNS—I believe Kaufmann is the makings of a champion yet I think he has all he can do in his coming fight to win from Foley.

BILLY BLAKLEY—I would like Foley to win on points yet it would not surprise me to see Kaufmann win.

CHARLIE McLAIN—I think Foley will win if he fights carefully. Kaufmann is a great fighter.

SAMMY McCLINTIC—It will be a good fight and ought to draw a good house. Kaufmann is my choice.

TOM CORBETT—Foley's cleverness should offset Kaufmann's weight and aggressiveness. It is a pretty even fight.

DICK FORD—It will be an interesting scrap and Kaufmann ought to win inside of fifteen rounds.

DICK ADAMS—They say

Kaufmann is a better man than Jeffries but they will have to show me. Foley will be an excellent try out for him.

CHARLES OTIS (of Otis & Hayes)—I think Foley is too clever for Kaufmann and his ring experience will win him the contest.

TIM MCGRATH—I think it's a toss up. Foley is the cleverest boxer, while Kaufmann hits well and has the weight. A boxer and fighter always make a good contest such as Britt and Nelson did.

GEORGE WALTON—I think Foley has a good chance to win.

CHARLIE ZENO—Kaufmann looks like the winner to me. I shall have a good bet on him.

GINGER GREEN—If Foley hits Kaufmann as hard as he did Ben Tremble he will win easily.

JOE NEALON—He is a youngster who had edged his way into the room and stood glaring wild-eyed at the fighter and who was later elected from the place much to his discomfiture.

"That's not for publication," remarked Foley to THE TRIBUNE man, meaning the wallop he was to use on the dashing Al Kaufmann.

After the usual polishing act by the trainers Harry weighed for the benefit of his visitors and the scales showed him to be a shade under 174 pounds.

There is keen interest in this contest between Kaufmann and Foley and already the different out-of-town heavyweight bruisers are beginning to tack to their sets of articles "the winner will be matched to meet Al Kaufmann if he wins from Harry Foley."

WEIGHS 186 POUNDS.

"Today I weighed 186 pounds," said Al, "and by Thursday night I will be down to 180. I will dry out a good deal and will not carry any slop in my stomach, for a boxer is always much faster when he is dry. I want to be at my very best when I get into that ring Thursday night and I want to make an impression with the crowd for I realize that my entire future depends largely on the way I conduct myself in this contest."

"I have studied carefully the ideas of Mr. Delaney and I have come to the conclusion that the only way for a fighting man to succeed is to first make himself solid with the public and to do that you must be an aggressive fighter; they don't like a fellow who holds back." They want to see the ginger all the time and that's what I shall endeavor to give them. Look how popular Terry McGovern was; he won the hearts of the people just by his ag-

OAKLAND LODGE OF ELKS TO PLAY BALL AGAINST THE SAN FRANCISCO LODGE MINISTER AS SHORT-STOP

Game Scheduled For Presidio Grounds.

The event of the year in B. P. O. E. circles will be the annual baseball game between the Oakland lodge and the San Francisco lodge, the contest to take place next Saturday afternoon at the Presidio athletic grounds, San Francisco.

Last year the game took place on this side of the bay, at Idora Park, and was witnessed by a huge crowd, both teams claiming a victory.

This annual game of baseball between the local Elks and the brethren on the other side of the bay is played for charity sake, the proceeds going to provide a Christmas dinner for the deserving poor.

MINISTER AT SHORT.

One of the features of the game will be the performance of the Rev. William Carson Shaw, rector of the Church of the Advent, East Oakland, as short-stop.

In his college days Rector Shaw was quite an athlete, being pitcher for his college team.

The local team has been at practice the past few days and has developed a strong aggregation.

LOCAL ELEVEN WILL PLAY FOOTBALL WINS OUT; 15 to 0

FRUITVALE, Sept. 26.—The game of football on Jackson Street Park, Oakland on Saturday, between the Union High School team of Fruitvale, and the team from the Polytechnic High School, College, Oakland, resulted in a score of 15 to 0, in favor of the Polytechnic team.

As the Union High boys said, "they got soundly thrashed." But both teams played well, with courage and skill. The girls of the Union High are especially commended for having turned out to the game, to the number of 100, and "rooted" and cheered for "their boys."

The pupils of Union High School No. 4 have adopted a button, indicative of the school to which they belong. It is green, with the letters U. S. H. No. 4, upon it in gold.

SCORES MADE IN TRIBUNE TOURNEY

FOLLOWING is the result of the first night's play in the third week of THE TRIBUNE bowling tournament, held last evening on the Syndicate alleys:

WILLUS BRITT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—William Britt, brother and manager of Jimmy Britt, arrived yesterday from San Francisco.

Manager Britt's mission to the city is to arrange for the reproduction of the moving pictures taken of the Britt-Nelson battle.

According to Britt the pictures are the best of the kind ever taken, and he says that when the fight is reproduced it will be just as effective as seeing the real article which took place at Colma.

The films of the fight have already arranged in the city and will be shown just as soon as a suitable place can be obtained for the purpose.

The Britt-Nelson pictures at Mechanics' Hall, San Francisco, will be shown to have a highly successful run.

The seating accommodation was enlarged last night and all the space was well attended.

Most people overestimate their sorrows and undervalue their joys.

THREE AUTOMOBILES IN ELIMINATION TRIALS ARE THROWN OUT OF CONTEST

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Three automobiles which finished last in Saturday's elimination trials for the American team to compete for the Vanderbilt cup were thrown out yesterday by the commission in charge of the American racers.

The cars were declared at the close of Saturday's trials to have qualified, but the commission decided to substitute machines of higher power and named three others to make up the team representing this country.

The cars thrown out were a 40-horse power owned by E. D. Sherman which finished third; the 50-horse power belonging to Elwood Haynes, which came in fourth, and the 60-horse power owned by H. S. Houp, which finished fifth.

The cars substituted in their places were the 120-horse power of James L. Bressie; 90-horse power owned by Colonel A. A. Pope, and 40-horse power owned by R. H. White.

TO STRENGTHEN TEAM.

The committee announced that this somewhat drastic action was taken to strengthen the American team by substituting for the touring cars racing machines of higher horse power, which would show to better advantage against the high powered foreign cars.

This action was partially foreshadowed in the announcement before the trials, that the commission reserved the right to name for the Americas team five cars which, in its judgment made the best showing.

The decision caused much dissatisfaction and ill feeling among the owners of the machines thrown out. They were emphatic in their protests and maintained that all the qualifying cars were the 120-horse power of James L. Bressie; 90-horse power owned by Colonel A. A. Pope, and 40-horse power owned by R. H. White.

SAN LEANDRO BOYS TEAM WINS GAME

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 26.—There was genuine interest aroused here by the two baseball games, Sunday and Monday. The game on Sunday was between the San Leandro club and the team from the Gorham Rubber Company, San Francisco.

Until the sixth inning not a run was made by either side. In the sixth, San Leandro got two and the Gorhams 1. The seventh left the score the same. In the eighth the Gorhams got three and the San Leandros one more, making the total score four to three, in favor of the visitors. The San Leandros went to bat, in the ninth, and with the bases full two men out, and two strikes called on their batter, he knocked the ball into the cherry trees outside the grounds, for four runs, making the score seven to four in favor of the home club.

MARRIED VS. SINGLE.

On Monday the game was between the married men and single men, a portion of the single team, it is said, being members of the professional home team. Positions in the team were as follows:

MARRIED—Frates, c.; Rose, Frank, p.; Toffmiller, Irv., ss; Reed, Chas., 1st b.; Roberts, Frank, 2d b.; Vogt, J. (Chief Vogt of the Fire Department), 3d b.; Peeler, M. J., M.; Quinn, J., cf.; Kessler, C., r.

FATHER YORKE HONORED IN GALWAY.

East Oakland Pastor Given a Warm Reception in His Home City.

(From S. F. Leader.) In the evening the Rev. Prior entertained the clergy of the city at a banquet, which was splendidly served by the management of the Railway Hotel, says the Galway Connacht Champion, speaking of the recent celebration in honor of the Golden Jubilee of the Augustinian Church, Galway.

The Rev. Father Travers presided at the table, the Lord Bishop of Galway on his right hand side and the Rev. Father Yorke on his left. The other clergy who sat down to table were the Very Rev. Father Greaven, P. P.; the Very Rev. Father Lally, P. P.; the Very Rev. Father O'Connor (Guardian) O. S. F.; the Very Rev. Father Barry (Prior); O. P.; the Very Rev. Father Foley, S. J.; the Rev. Father Nestor, C. C.; the Rev. Father Nowles, O. S. A.; the Rev. Father Tomkins, S. J.; the Rev. Father Chambers, O. S. F.; the Rev. Father Glenden, O. P.; the Rev. Father Ralph, O. P.; the Rev. Father Kelley, C. C.; the Rev. Father Coniglio, C. C.; the Rev. Father Griffin, C. C.; the Rev. Father Caher, C. C.; the Very Rev. Dr. Murphy, O. S. A.; the Rev. J. Murphy, O. S. A.

At the conclusion of the banquet some songs were contributed, after which Father Travers rose to propose the health of their distinguished visitor, Father Yorke. The practice of proposing toasts on feast day gatherings was unusual in Galway, but he thought that some exception should be made in the present case, when they had an excellent such an illustrious patrician priest as Father Yorke. The speaker then went on to refer to the many brilliant qualities of the Rev. Father Yorke, and said that Galway was proud to own him as one of its most renowned sons. He asked them to drink to the health of the Rev. Father Yorke.

The toast was drunk amidst much enthusiasm and many expressions of good will towards Father Yorke.

Father Yorke, in the course of his reply, which as is the case with all his speeches contained much humor and shrewd observation, expressed his great pleasure in finding himself among his fellow countrymen, and especially among the clergy of his native town.

Father Yorke then proposed the health of the Lord Bishop, of whom he spoke in terms of the warmest admiration and affection. If there was one bishop in Ireland more beloved by his people than another, or who was a true patriot, that was Francis Joseph MacCormack, Bishop of Galway. (Applause.) The Bishop was an old friend of his, and he (the speaker) had never received anything but the greatest kindness from him. His hope had been for years to induce His Lordship to pay him a visit to San Francisco, where he would guarantee Dr. MacCormack would receive a welcome which would show the greatest interest in which he was held. (Applause.)

The toast having been very warmly acknowledged, His Lordship in reply returned thanks to Father Yorke for the kindly expression of his sentiments towards him and to those present for the very cordial manner in which they

DESTROY SCHOONER AT SEA TO FIRE TONS OF DYNAMITE

Cruiser Blows Up Wreck That Menaced At- lantic Liners.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Men of the cruiser Columbia tell an interesting story of their search for the wreck of the lumber schooner Edward L. Allen, abandoned at sea June 26 south of Nantucket Shoals and which has since been drifting about in the path of trans-Atlantic liners. The Columbia returned to port yesterday, having accomplished the derelict's destruction.

The cruiser put to sea last Thursday with instructions from Rear Admiral Coghlan to find the wreck of the lumber schooner. On reaching a point about 100 miles of Sandy Hook the search began just as the sun set.

Commander Bowyer ordered that the Columbia travel in a square of fourteen miles during the night and with the searchlight working all the time.

A double watch was kept as an unexpected discovery of the wreck might have been disastrous to the Columbia herself.

When daylight came on Friday the derelict had not been sighted. Communication by wireless was immediately established with the Brooklyn Navy Yard via Newport.

A wireless reply was soon received giving a new position to the derelict a short distance to the eastward. Then the square of search shifted and narrowed to seven miles. Throughout Friday night the Columbia steamed around the seven-mile square, but with no result. Communication was kept up with the navy yard, but no further information as to the location of the derelict had been received.

WRECK IS SIGHTED.

On Saturday the Columbia was still unsuccessful. Several ocean liners queried by wireless but failed to respond and Commander Bowyer decided to steam slowly to the southeast with the wind. Just as day broke the old schooner's remains were sighted a couple of knots ahead. Bouts were at once lowered carrying torpedoes, fuses, wires and batteries. The derelict was boarded but nothing of value was found and it was apparent that she had been looted several times.

With the aid of a line the men lowered two torpedoes containing gun cotton under the keel directly beneath the deckhouse. When these were arranged the wires were taken in. Then the whaleboats backed off before connecting the wires with the batteries. The Columbia had steamed off to a safe distance.

When the wires were connected a terrific explosion shook the sea, the whaleboats and the cruiser. The derelict heaved out of the ocean, broken in two pieces. The torpedoes had cut her in half and the parts drifted in opposite directions. Two more torpedoes were put under the main hatch forward. This explosion shattered the bow of the vessel. The cargo stored there, composed mainly of wooden blocks, flew into the air with other debris to a height of one hundred feet.

A third charge of gun cotton blew the hull and the deck apart. The hull went down, the cargo was reduced to matchwood, but the deck went up in the air and descended as gently as a parachute and another torpedo was required to complete the work of destruction.

THE TIME WILL COME When the Advice of This Oakland Resident Will Help You.

Very few people are entirely free from backache. It does not take much to damage the kidneys. A little cold, a strain, stooping positions or hard work, overtaxes these delicate organs, and many aches and pains promptly follow. An Oakland citizen tells you here how every kidney ill can be relieved and cured. Read about it.

Walter J. Plumber, of 1228 Versailles Avenue, Alameda, is a well-known employer of Geo. R. Moss & Co. says: "If the condition of cold which settled around the ankle of St. Augustine's Church, Galway, is to be preserved in the archives of our city and handed down to posterity, for they are masterpieces of learning, eloquence and patriotism. He undoubtedly touched the right chord in our hearts and awakened a spirit that had begun to lie dormant. From reading an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills in a newspaper I was induced to buy a dozen bottles for a bar. Kelly followed up his treatment in a few days and since I stopped using the pills there has not been a sign of a recurrence."

TO FIRE TONS OF DYNAMITE

Greatest Amount Ever Blown Up at One Explosion.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Intense excitement prevails at Port Said consequent on the decision to blow up the steamship Chatham which was sunk in the Suez Canal some weeks ago while on fire, says a Herald dispatch from Alexandria. There is eighty tons of dynamite in the Chatham's cargo.

That the town will be damaged to any extent is considered unlikely, the vessel being nearly twelve miles distant.

Batteries for the explosion are already fixed at Kantara, which is fourteen miles distant from the ship.

Among the preparations made, the railway authorities have one thousand bags of sand ready for repairs and a large staff of workmen have been engaged, as the fresh water canal has been diverted 222 yards. Canal traffic ceases on Wednesday evening.

The dynamite on board the Chatham will be the greatest amount ever blown up at one explosion.

Thirty tons of dynamite were exploded in 19'3 on board a ship anchored at Santander, killing six hundred people and injuring over 2,000.

Thursday's explosion will be far bigger, but the canal runs through the open desert at the point in question and all necessary precautions have been taken.

STUDENTS TO BE IN A GREAT CHORUS

Professor Wolle Announces Names of Those Who Will Sing Under Him—Rehearsal Tonight.

BERKELEY, Sept. 26.—As ending at 8:30. All the students whose names are not included above are requested to report at this time for active work.

Copies of the music will be on hand in Hearst Hall and will be distributed to the singers. The second rehearsal will be held on Thursday evening, September 23, between 7:30 and 8:30 at Hearst Hall. The rehearsal tomorrow night is merely preliminary rehearsal and does not include all the voices which will eventually compose the University Chorus. A considerable number of those who have been tried and who have not yet been admitted to the chorus have seemed to Professor Wolle distinctly valuable material. He thinks it best, however, that the choral work should be begun with a nucleus of the best material that has presented itself. It is his opinion, however, that after a certain period and after a nucleus for the chorus has been definitely established it will be well to admit for the purpose of this work a certain proportion of those whose voices have already been tested but who have not been thus far accepted for the chorus. The names of such students have been placed upon a waiting list for the University Chorus and as soon as the opportunity arises students on this waiting list will be notified that they may avail themselves of the privilege of becoming members of the chorus.

The students notified today that they have been admitted are those whose voices Professor Wolle has thought to show the most promise out of those that he tested for the purposes of the chorus. From time to time additional names of names will be added to those who have qualified for the work.

Professor Wolle will test voices on Mondays and Wednesdays in the forenoon, at Sibley Hall, and every afternoon in the Greek Theater, between 1:30 and 5. He will continue these trials indefinitely until he feels certain that he has obtained all of the best voices, whether or not they are familiar with music, in order that the chorus may be made thoroughly representative of the musical talent of the University.

C. S. Alvord Misses Being Killed By Train.

ELMHURST, Sept. 26.—C. S. Alvord feels nervous yet and all broke up over his narrow escape from death at the Jones street crossing of the Southern Pacific, one day last week. He started to cross the railroad track with a horse and buggy, but when he was partly across, noticed the nearness of the train and backed the horse off. But all the same the horse was so close to the train as it went by that it had to turn its head sharply to the right to escape being hit.

HAWAIIAN SINGERS.

Manager Greenbaum has engaged the original Kawaihau Orchestra and Glee Club of Honolulu for a long tour of this country and will present them at Lyric Hall, San Francisco, Thursday and Friday nights, October 5 and 6, and Friday matinee, at 3:30 o'clock. This late hour for the matinee has been arranged so that school teachers and children may attend.

This organization is composed of the ten finest musicians vocal and instrumental in the Islands. There are other Hawaiian musicians to compare with these men. The Kawaihau was formed by his late majesty, King Kalakaua, and consisted of the students of his court functionaries. The instruments used are violin, violincello, double bass flute, saxophone, two guitars, ukulele and taro-patch, the last two being native string instruments. The singers form a quartet and a double quartet. The vocal soloists are Ben Jones, a splendid basso profundo, and Messrs. Shaw and Kuleila, both tenors. The instrumentalists are Major Johnson, fife, and David Napa, the foremost native composer, who will play the saxophone.

The program will contain European music, although the special feature will be the beautiful Hawaiian melodies and the jolly Hula songs.

The prices will be popular, 50 and 25 cents for reserved seats, and the box office will open at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s Monday morning.

TO AID ENDEAVOR.

A concert for the benefit of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the Fruitvale Congregational church, to take place Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Armory Hall, Fruitvale, has been carefully prepared and a good program is assured.

Following are some of those who will lend their talents to help make it a success: The Zither Club, composed of leading artists, led by Professor Mayer of San Francisco; Mrs. Robinson, contralto of First Congregational Church of San Francisco; E. James Finney, tenor, late of Chicago; Mr. Parker of Fruitvale, organ solo; Miss Gertrude Maurer, recitation; Miss Madeline Hill, accompanist, organist of First Presbyterian Church, Oakland.

FOR ST. PATRICK'S FAIR.

Tomorrow evening the young ladies of the grab box booth, the Misses Dolan, Anna Hennessey, Emily and Mary McCarthy, will give a social hop at Alcatraz Hall, at Seventh and Paratela streets, for the benefit of St. Patrick's fair. They will be assisted by the following prominent members of the Y. M. C. A.: Floor manager, George McCarthy; assistant floor manager, J. Henry Sheehan; Floor committee—J. T. Connally, Frank Drew, Eugene Shortt, Lloyd Sterling.

OIL MAGNATES GET CONTROL.

FINANCIERS SECURE TRACTION
SECURITIES IN OHIO AND INDIANA.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 26.—The Leader today says: The Standard Oil group of New York financiers has obtained control of traction securities in Ohio and Indiana with a par value of $83,105,000 at a reported cash outlay of $50,000,000. Other similar transactions are known to be pending.

The positive statement was made yesterday by a prominent Cleveland financier, and was supported by the statement of a Philadelphia banker, that the New York Standard Oil concern is back of the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia. This company is working in Ohio through agencies—the Elkins-Widener-Dolan syndicate and Randal Morgan, vice-president of the gas company.

The former syndicate bought the Cincinnati Street Railway properties and took over the Cincinnati, Dayton & Toledo, the McCullough lines in Indiana and several others. The latter has just bought the Tucker-Anthon properties, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville. It is also admitted by Philadelphia interests that control is sought of the Appleyard properties, known as the Columbus, London and Springfield, the South Market street line in Columbus and the Dayton, Springfield & Urbana.

The positive statement is made by several authorities that once these purchases have been made it is the intention of the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia, representing Standard Oil districts to form a holding company with a capitalization of $50,000,000 to take over the securities of all the various companies controlled.

A NOTED VIOLINIST.

The first of the magnificent lot of attractions that Manager Will Greenbaum will present this season is the great German violinist, Hugo Heermann, for many years leader of the famous museum symphony and quartet concertos of Frankfort-on-Main and chief teacher of violin at the Hoch Conservatorium of that city.

At the age of eight this artist appeared as a prodigy, and, as he heard him, advised his father to send him to Brussels to study. There he remained five years under Mertz, after which he studied with Boekeler and Vlaempen, and, with De Boriot, Louarn and Vlaempen, taught the need of deeper and more satisfying methods than those of the French school. He proceeded to Hanover, where he studied with the famous violinists whose playing his own had in later years been compared. Mr. Heermann has concertized in Germany, Spain, England, Austria, Italy, France, and enjoys the distinction of being the only German artist ever engaged twice at the Conservatoire in Paris.

Hugo Heermann will play the piano, Josephine Hause and Beethoven concerting. The first two have never been heard in public in this city, and music lovers will find many works on the Heermann program that are seldom heard at events of the ordinary social character. The complete program may be obtained at his office at Sherman, Clay & Co., or, while the sale of season tickets opens, at the regular price of $10. Prices: $2.50, $2.25 and $1.50 for future series. Single concerts, $1.50. Seats to rents, for which seats will be on sale Friday morning. The dates of the concert are Monday and Saturday afternoon, October 9 and 10, and Saturday afternoon, October 11 at Lyric Hall San Francisco. Fred Maurer will play the accompaniments.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Alas Nature.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, noted for this plan, always the result of the best and adds no information to restoring the system to a healthy condition. It is famous for its cure of coughs, colds, sore throat, etc. Many thousands have testified to its surprising excellence. It counteracts any tendency to a cold to result in pneumonia. Successful Dentists.

The Van Vroom Dental Parlors are really the only dental parlors of any magnitude in San Francisco that have ever made a success.

That we have made a success is due to the efficiency of our work, our careful, painstaking methods and our painless processes. During the time we have been in business, we have operated successfully on over 33,000 patients. Every patient that leaves our parlors is a satisfied customer and a life long friend. These patients tell their friends and they eventually become our customers.

DEPT. OF THE TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES
W. W. GARTHWAITE, COMPTON
OF THE UNITED STATES

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 26.—The Leader today says: The Standard Oil group of New York financiers has obtained control of traction securities in Ohio and Indiana with a par value of $83,105,000 at a reported cash outlay of $50,000,000. Other similar transactions are known to be pending.

The positive statement was made yesterday by a prominent Cleveland financier, and was supported by the statement of a Philadelphia banker, that the New York Standard Oil concern is back of the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia. This company is working in Ohio through agencies—the Elkins-Widener-Dolan syndicate and Randal Morgan, vice-president of the gas company.

The former syndicate bought the Cincinnati Street Railway properties and took over the McCullough lines in Indiana and several others. The latter has just bought the Tucker-Anthon properties, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville. It is also admitted by Philadelphia interests that control is sought of the Appleyard properties, known as the Columbus, London and Springfield, the South Market street line in Columbus and the Dayton, Springfield & Urbana.

The positive statement is made by several authorities that once these purchases have been made it is the intention of the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia, representing Standard Oil districts to form a holding company with a capitalization of $50,000,000 to take over the securities of all the various companies controlled.

A NOTED VIOLINIST.

The first of the magnificent lot of attractions that Manager Will Greenbaum will present this season is the great German violinist, Hugo Heermann, for many years leader of the famous museum symphony and quartet concertos of Frankfort-on-Main and chief teacher of violin at the Hoch Conservatorium of that city.

At the age of eight this artist appeared as a prodigy, and, as he heard him, advised his father to send him to Brussels to study. There he remained five years under Mertz, after which he studied with Boekeler and Vlaempen, and, with De Boriot, Louarn and Vlaempen, taught the need of deeper and more satisfying methods than those of the French school. He proceeded to Hanover, where he studied with the famous violinists whose playing his own had in later years been compared. WM. J. BRYAN IS GREETED AT BERKELEY

Well Known Democratic Orator Given a Reception in the College Town.

William Jennings Bryan, well known orator and twice nominee for President on the Democratic ticket spoke on "The Value of an Ideal" last night in the Berkeley Theater, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. The speaker was greeted by a large assemblage, the hall being filled to its capacity. In the audience were ladies as well as gentlemen, and all cheered enthusiastically the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Bryan entered the theater at 8:15 o'clock, accompanied by Superior Judge William H. Waste of Berkeley. He was given an ovation of hand claps as he approached the rostrum. He bowed in acknowledgment and a few moments later stepped on to the platform.

WANT BRYAN.

College students were in evidence before the address began, as frequent calls were made by them in "We want Bryan," followed by the time-honored, "Oske-wow-wow."

An effort was also made by the young men to sing for the benefit of the distinguished visitor, but the effort proved a dismal failure. The applause they received drowned their voices. Even Mr. Bryan joined in the fun of the moment and laughed at the effort of the galleries.

JUDGE WASTE.

In opening, Judge Waste said: "We will take the spirit for the dead." He continued with an announcement concerning the excellent work accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. during the past year and of its ambitious plans for the next. He also urged upon those present to accept a copy of the association's new booklet, "Berkeley Oaks," and to look it over. Introducing Mr. Bryan, Judge Waste said:

"Berkeley is an essential community in this government, and I know that the audience here assembled is a thinking one. I therefore do not have to make an introductory speech and I take pleasure in presenting to you one of the greatest Americans of the day, William Jennings Bryan."

BRYAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Bryan's talk "On the Value of an Ideal," was filled throughout with treasured reminiscences of his ambitions to become the President of the United States. In the course of his remarks he said:

"In reserving some time for lectures, I determined that college towns would be given the preference, because I like to talk to students. If a person has something to say, he likes to have some one listen intelligently. At some one's age impressions can be made more easily and when a college man gets out into the world he exerts more than ordinary influence."

"Do you know anything more wonderful than a change of ideals? You have heard of people who have changed religions because they could not fathom the one they were in. Did you ever stop to think of the mysteries of the growing vegetables and of human life? Mystery is not thought of at the table, only in church. To my mind, it takes harder reasoning to conceive of materialism than any religion."

"Nothing but ideals will convert a man from a selfish human being to one who is kind and does good. Your ideals thus are very important."

"I want to say to the young men that this thought should always be before them. We all need friends and we must obtain it. I should think that a young man would be ashamed to sponge on the world, and not give as much in exchange as he receives from it."

"SELFMADE MEN.

"Rather than go the hard path of accumulated wealth, many wish to make short cut-offs. I formerly got-rich-quick schemes. I have heard many say they are self-made. I would like to ask them if they consider the debts they owe to their mothers, fathers, their teachers and their country's patriots. When we meet death we should be sure that we have given contributions to the world equal to what we have drawn out."

"MONEY FOR TITLE.

"There is one ideal whose good results I question, and that is when an American helpless sells herself with money she has not earned to a foreigner with a broken down title that has not earned. The highest type of an ideal should be to build up a true American home."

"Physicians do not merely draw pay, but they have an ideal, in wishing to develop their science. Some lawyers boast of obscuring the line between right and wrong. When this is their ideal they weaken and become or no use. But where a lawyer makes up his mind to follow wherever truth leads, he becomes stronger and his practice enlarges. He has the true ideal. I could mention many instances, for ideals control life and determine character in all professions."

PARTY IDEALS.

"I now wish to speak of party ideals. We are far enough from our elections. If you call that last one an election. It was more like a Republican primary. A young man goes to a meeting and asks him to aid in raising its ideals.

"If you should ask me what party will be in power in twenty-five years, I would answer, 'That party which has the highest ideals will dominate politics.'

"Physicians do not merely draw pay, but they have an ideal, in wishing to develop their science. Some lawyers boast of obscuring the line between right and wrong. When this is their ideal they weaken and become or no use. But where a lawyer makes up his mind to follow wherever truth leads, he becomes stronger and his practice enlarges. He has the true ideal. I could mention many instances, for ideals control life and determine character in all professions."

"CORRUPTION INCREASING.

"CORRUPTION is assuming large proportions each year in our public councils, legislatures and even in the federal offices. Men who are supposed to represent the people are engaged in public plundering all the time for their own private gain. I know that in Indiana many persons have been convicted of selling their votes and have been disfranchised. They were not all Republicans either, but a few Democrats have been led astray by Republican money. When Democratic money is used it is done to fortify the virtue of a Democrat who is being urged with Republican money. (Laughter.) It has been said that it does not pay to fight the devil with fire, as he knows too well how to use it; and the fuel does not cost him so much."

"IN ORDER TO STOP THIS CORRUPTION I have spoken of, we must put up something that is stronger than money, and that is an aroused conscience."

"WE MUST HAVE PARTIES. Some one said, 'Not one so that one could watch the other.' I think however, that there are more in the Republican party watching than are necessary."

"THE SENTIMENT IS growing which wishes to make the Senate answerable to the people. It is growing and growing, and sometime will be a realization."

"I will mention the initiative and the referendum. The tendency of these doctrines is to bring the Government nearer to the people. There is far more morality among the people than there is among the people's representatives, who are betraying for their own gain the confidence imposed in them."

"PEOPLE'S RIGHTS.

"IT IS MY PURPOSE to establish a party ideal. The people are the source of power. They correct the constitution and the laws. The majority seldom make mistakes and if they do, they can be remedied. I believe the people should determine on all laws. I think they have the right to do anything they wish. If people want gold for a standard, they have a right to it. If they want silver, they have a right to it. If they want both, they have a right to them. What more can I grant for the sake of harmony?" (Applause.)

"ALTERED THE CASE.

"DURING ONE of my campaigns, the Traveling Men's Bryan club presented me with a handbag to take with me to Washington. I told them that I would put my clothes in it and take them to the National Capital. But then you know circumstances alter cases, and just they did so in my case (Laughter)."

"WHEN I first bought a boy, I had three ambitions. The first was to be a Baptist preacher. One time I went with my father to an immersion. When I came home I asked him if I would have to go through the same ceremony. He answered 'Yes.' Ever since that time, and it is down in the family traditions, I never wanted to be a Baptist minister. Some friends have explained it by saying that it was the Democratic dislike for water that brought the change."

"I also wanted to be a farmer and raise pumpkins, and I know now that there are many persons who are glad

"when I am abroad, I heard of a substance of which there are but two pounds in the world. I feared that the American people would hear about it and make it their standard. If they should want to give one-half of this radium to Rockefeller and one-half to Morgan, they could do so, as it is their right."

"They have the right to trusts and "I have the right to be a lawyer. I also wanted to be a lawyer, and I have followed that out."

"POLITICS AN ACCIDENT.

"I got into politics by accident and stayed there by design. I was chosen by my party to run for Congress in a Republican district in Nebraska. The reason I was put up was because I was the only one they could find. I once heard it said that a man was elected to Congress by fooling a friend, and I have heard of others who have been elected by fooling the whole people. (Laughter.)

"THE CALL TO POLITICS.

"I have always been interested in National matters, and I believe that the science of government is a noble science. Many of our mothers in this land urge their sons not to go into politics, fearing they will become contaminated. It should be the boast and ideal of American mothers that they can raise sons who can enter politics so brave that they cannot become contaminated. It should be our aim to manage the government of this land so good that to be a citizen in it would be as high as to be a king in another land."

Mr. Bryan then gave instances of ideals that have wrought so much good; his ideals have kept many from those living and righteous paths; how Tolstoi, the eminent Russian, was prevented from killing himself by getting an ideal, which he determined to live for and work out. Continuing, he said:

"Do you know anything more wonderful than a change of ideals? You have heard of people who have changed religions because they could not fathom the one they were in. Did you ever stop to think of the mysteries of the growing vegetables and of human life? Mystery is not thought of at the table, only in church.
